We find, however, that the prices will be lower than they were last year, the season having been much more favorable for propo-gating the young plants. We can say that the price of the peach trees of the largest size will not exceed 6 cents delivered at such points in the county as we may designate. We hope in a few days to make a short trip to the Ridge section for the purpose of seeing the peach industry during the shippins season. We shall make every endeavor to get

"Yes, we are going to have it."
"We must have it." These and similar remarks can be heard in regard to the establishment of a boarding school in connection with Mt. Zion. The mass meeting of the citizens at the court house this afternoon will determine definitely whether we are to have it. What are you going to do to make it possible?

The Spartanburg Daily Herald in noting that a young lady is one of the five orators at the commencement of the South Carolina College asks if she is much of an "oratoress." It is too cruel to make an insinuation of such a grave character against the necessary information for starting an orchard. In the mean time let every farmer determine to plant at least a few fruit trees this coming season. There should also be others, especially in the lower section of the county, to take up the matter of growing peaches for the market.
